Maine Concrete Products Co., near Washington Junction, is to begin to-day. A. L.
Bickford, of Bangor, the treasurer of the company, is here to superintend the work.
Louis Anderson is the local manager of the plant. The principal product of this plant is to be building blocks, but all kinds sonic office in the State. The reception took place from 8 to 9 o'clock. The re-

FOURTH OF JULY.

General Committee is Circulating Subscription Paper.

Plans for Ellsworth's Fourth of July celebration go merrily forward. The general committee is now circulating a subscription paper, and reports encouraging success.

Several meetings of the general and subcommittees have been held during the past week, and work is being pushed all along the line. The full programme cannot be announced, however, before next week.

The committee on mounted parade report twenty to thirty mounts already promised. The carnival display, which will be part of the regular morning parade, promises to be an elaborate feature. The committee on illumination are working on plans which will make this a big feature of the celebration. It is probable that arrangements will be made to allow visitors to Ellsworth to go through the new dam and inspect the power house, during certain hours in the afternoon.

There will be row-boat and canoe races on the river, which can be witnessed from the bridge, and it is expected to have also a log-drivers' race and exhibition of log-riding, something Ellsworth has not had an opportunity to see for many years.

An exhibition fire drill by the city fire department is another feature promised.

Several companies of uniform rank, K.
of P., are in correspondence with the committee, and it is expected to have several of these companies here to participate in the parade and enter into competitive drill with the Ellsworth company, which has voted unanimously to take part in the celebration.

Another meeting of the general and subcommittees will be called for the latter part of this week.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Customary Observance of the Day in Ellsworth.

Memorial Day was observed in the usual manner by Wm. H. H. Rice post of Ellsworth. As the day fell on Saturday, it was not so generally observed as usual as a holiday by the merchants.

After a week of dull weather and rain,
the weather clerk favored the veterans with a glorious spring day. In the early morning the details from the post visited the various cemeteries in the vicinity, and decorated the graves of soldiers with flags and flowers.

At 1 o'clock the veterans assembled at Grand Army hall, and escorted by Lynch's band, marched to the soldiers' monument where the usual ritual service was held. There were sixty veterans in line. Wm. H. H. Rice post has not lost a member during the past year.

After the service at the monument, the line was reformed and marched to Hancock hall for the regular Memorial Day exercises. The hall was well filled.

Mayor F. F. Simonton presided. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. W. F.
Emery. Lincoln's address at Gettysburg was read effectively by Miss Alice Clough, of Ellsworth Falls.

Dr. J. H. Patten, of Amherst, the orator of the day, delivered an able address, ringing with true patriotism, and conveying a touching tribute to the living veterans and their dead comrades in arms.

Music for the afternoon was furnished by a quartette composed of Mrs. J. A.
Cunningham, Miss Mary F. Hopkins, O.
W. Tapley and J. A. Cunningham, and by the band. The closing benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. D. Prigmore.

Fatal Accident at Orland.

EAST ORLAND, June 1 (special)—This morning Fred P. Mead, while working on the gateway at the dam, was struck on the head and killed, his body falling into the water and passing through under the bridge into the mill pond. The water was quickly drained off and the body recovered. Dr. Towle found the skull fractured.

Mr. Mead was engaged in hoisting the gate in the dam so that logs could be sluiced through. He had raised the gate and was placing blocks beneath it to hold it in place, when his pick-pole struck the lever which controls the gate. The lever handle came down with terrible force, striking Mr. Mead across the top of the head.

Mr. Mead began working for F. P.
Mason this morning and had been working about two hours when the accident occurred. He leaves besides a widow, three sons, Edward, Arthur, Roy,
a mother, one brother, Henry, of Foxcroft, and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Gray, of this place.

family there.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week
Beginning June 7, 1908.
By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Songs of the heart.—VI. What is true penitence.—Ps. 11. (Consecration meeting.)

The Fifty-first Psalm is one of the deepest and sincerest expressions of repentance to be found in religious history. David had sinned grievously. He had broken two of the most serious commandments of God. God sent Nathan the prophet to him, who in a parable made David see and condemn himself, and when he saw what he had done he fell down in sackcloth and ashes and cried unto God for forgiveness and afterward expressed his repentance in the words of this psalm, which may well be taken as a type of true penitence.

Moreover, the subject of repentance is well worthy of our study, and especially today. The tendency of our age is not to emphasize repentance from sin. The John the Baptists who are crying, "Repent and be baptized for the remission of sin," are not so large in number as they have been in the history of the past nor as they should be today, for without repentance it is impossible for the human soul to find salvation in Jesus Christ.

What, then, is true penitence as expressed by David in this psalm? (1) It includes consciousness of sin. No man will ever repent of what he is not conscious. If he is not convicted of his sinfulness, he will never seek God to pardon it and to forgive him. Time had elapsed between David's sin and his repentance. He went on living as he had done before, but when Nathan, under God's direction, convicted him of his sinfulness the first step had been taken toward true repentance. Our difficulty today is the absence of deep conviction of sin. In many cases sin is made light of. It has been called a weakness for which we are not responsible. It has been defined merely as the "absence of love" or human selfishness. But sin is a transgression against the law of God. David realized this when he cried out to God, "Against Thee, and Thee only, have I sinned." So did the prodigal son when he exclaimed, "I have sinned before heaven and in Thy sight." If you have never felt that you are a sinner, ask God to show you, as he did David, the true condition of your heart, and you also will be convinced of your personal sinfulness. (2) True repentance includes an apprehension of the mercy of God. David appreciated the fact that God was gracious and merciful. He had no fear in coming to Him. Much more should we apprehend the mercy of God today since it has been manifested in the gift of His Son as "the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world." (3) It includes confession of sin. This confession need only be made to God. No man needs to confess to a fellow man unless he can make restitution for a wrong done, (4) contrition or sorrow for sin, and this sorrow must mean hatred of sin and a turning away from sin. The man who truly repents must give up his sins; otherwise repentance is a farce and a mockery. But if we truly repent God is able and willing to forgive us our sins. "If any man sin: he hath an advocate with the Father, even Jesus Christ the righteous, who is the expiatory sacrifice for our sins."

BIBLE READINGS.

Job xlii, 4, 5; Isa. i, 16-18; Iv, 1-7; Mark i, 14, 15; Luke iii, 1-8; xv, 11-24; Acts ii, 37-41; xxvi, 19, 20; Rom. ii, 1-4; II Cor. vii, 8-11.

More and Better.

Endeavorers, listen! Our glorious movement is not worn out. It has not seen its day. Through my eyes I see nothing to discourage us, but only the fulfilling of an irrevocable natural law, and already the receding tide is gathering itself for a mightier effort. The waters are gathering and swelling and rising and will surely, with a glorious onward movement, sweep farther and yet farther up the shores of our national, social and religious life. We see with what pendulum-like regularity the law of action and reaction is executed in every phase of human life. In our national life we have our seasons of prosperity and commercial depression. In our church life we have our seasons of spiritual revival, followed almost inevitably by times of opposite experience, and who will not acknowledge the operation of the same law in his own individual spiritual life?

What is to be done, then? We cannot alter the law. No, but we can utilize it, and I think I may say that tide is the secret of all true progress, not in fighting against but in working with the laws which God in His wisdom has laid down for the control of all the forces of nature. The reaction has passed, and now we must set ourselves to make the utmost use of the immense force of this returning wave in our Christian Endeavor life and pursue a vigorous policy of expansion. —Australian Roll Call.

Filling Up the Ruts.

If it is a prayer meeting rut, fill it up with new voices.
If it is a committee rut, fill it up with new methods.
If it is a devotional rut, fill it up with new spirituality.
If it is a financial rut, fill it up with new consecration.
If it is a social rut, fill it up with novel sorts of socials.
If it is any manner of rut, fill it up with ingenuity, persistence and pluck. —Amos R. Wells in Irish Endeavor.

Working For Things That Are Vital.

I wish you godspeed in your work, because the Christian Endeavorers are working for the things that are vital to the soul.—President Roosevelt.

THE SUNSHINE NEVER FAILED US YET.

Upon the sadness of the sea
The sunset broods regretfully;
From the far lonely spaces slow
Withdraws the wistful afterglow.

So out of life the splendor dies;
So darken all the happy skies;
So gathers twilight, cold and stern;
But overhead the planets burn.

And up the east another day
Shall chase the bitter dark away.
What though our eyes with tears be wet?
The sunrise never failed us yet.

The blush of dawn may yet restore
Our light, and hope, and joy once more.
Sad soul, take comfort, nor forget
That sunrise never failed us yet.

—Celia Thaxter.

Dear Mutuals:

The above beautiful poem by the poet around whom our thoughts have centered so long, was sent by Aunt Emma. Knowing how the home of Mrs. Thaxter looked out upon the sea, we can the better understand how its various moods are reflected in her poems and how her own moods found an answering sympathy in the ever-changing ocean.

I want to thank Peggy for suggesting Mrs. Thaxter as a "topic." We are becoming acquainted with her more and more. Simply to read a poem or a book is not to know its author. When we study the poem or the book, till we catch the spirit of the writer, when, as in the case of Mrs. Thaxter, we know the surroundings of the life, and understand from whence many of the inspirations are drawn, when we become familiar with the style and the trend of the author's works, then we have begun to acquire a broader education, and fortunately for most of us Mutuals, we believe with Longfellow that

"Nothing is too late,
Till the tired heart shall cease to palpitate."

So we spend few minutes each week, if not each day, in enlarging our mental horizon.

ROCHESTER, MINN., May 17.

Dear Aunt Madge:

Mrs. Dieter wished me to write you to let the sisters of the M. B. C. know that she has been very ill at the hospital, at North Yakima, Wash., but she has so far recovered now to be at her own home, and as soon as she is able will return the post cards the sisters so kindly sent her. From

MRS. DIETER'S SISTER.

Since the above letter was received, (though not quite in season for last week's column) I have had one from Mrs. Dieter, and, with me, you will all be glad to know she is some better, and remembers all the nieces. She was not well when she started for Washington state, and had only been there a few days when she was taken with rheumatism and was in the hospital five weeks. She writes that she is still very poorly, one hand being almost helpless, and she cannot use her right hand much. She writes:

"I have worried about what the sisters would think of the long delay, as I asked them to exchange cards. When I get better I will try to write you all about my new home and the place."

We hope when this number of THE AMERICAN reaches you, it will find you much improved in health.

Here's a cordial welcome to one of your good letters, Aunt Emma, and the "Helpful Hints for the Household" which you sent shall have a place in this week's column; they are all such sensible hints, and I am not unacquainted with "callous spots".

WEST FRANKLIN, May 22.

Dear Friends of the M. B. C.:

Some of my friends are saying, "Why don't you write for the M. B. C.?" so here I come. How do you do, one and all? Now I cannot tell you that I am done housecleaning, as some can, for I have not commenced yet; hope to begin next week.

Grandma G., what a nice poem and letter you gave us this week. I know it will help every one of us. Aunt Madge, we would dearly love to go in and look over those pictures. What a fund of good things is constantly coming into our M. B. C. But, deary me, I do not fancy the way they did their courting in those times; it is altogether too barbarous for this country. I have heard some of our old people tell that the Indians threw sticks across the room at one another, and if the lady threw them back, all was well, but if not, well I will leave the rest for you to judge.

I wonder what has become of Aunt Maria? Hope she is all right. Glad to know that all those who have been ill are out again. I think June would be a lovely time to have our reunion, as it will not be as busy a month as some others. Hope that everything will be favorable, and all may be present. Bangor would be a lovely place to have it, and we would extend thanks to the sister for the invitation.

I think we will have apple blossoms this year for Memorial Day, for the buds look so red now. Well, I am thinking you will not want me to come again very soon, so will say good afternoon to fall and best wishes from

AUNT EMMA.

Dear Aunt Madge:
We sisters, and our brothers, too, follow fashions to extremes, it would seem. I have for a long time been trying to solve the problem, "Why do we do it?" We certainly have sense enough to see and understand that some of the fashions we follow are no more to

The Best Pills Ever Sold.

"After doctoring 15 years for chronic indigestion, and spending over two hundred dollars, nothing has done me as much good as Dr. King's New Life Pills. I consider them the best pills ever sold," writes B. F. Ayscove, of Ingleside, N. C. Sold under guarantee at E. G. MOORE'S drug store, 25c.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman R. Barndt, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

"Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic derangement and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

our advantage than those we leave off. Yes, I will venture to say, many are to our great disadvantage. They hinder us in many ways.

I once knew a sister, a violinist; she was playing in a church choir. She was wearing and had on her head at the time, a very broad-brimmed hat; it was not so very broad in the rear but very broad in front; it stuck away out a long way.

Well, she was playing and every once in a while the end of her bow would strike the hat and lift it up, two or three inches, greatly to her mortification; but she was gritty and kept on pushing and drawing the bow. But soon she came to a measure that required an extra bend up of the bow, and as it went up it lifted the hat about a foot.

Poor young woman—I am sure she must have felt very bad, and she unpinned the hat and took it off in disgust. But, you say, why did she not do that in the first place. Well, I suppose she might have, but you see it was the fashion to wear it.

I think we cannot truthfully say that we are not slaves to fashion. And how much better is this kind of slavery than the one that held our colored brother in bondage? It hurts just the same when it punishes and kills, and it does both in numberless instances, does it not?

There might be some excuse in following fashions, if in every change we made we could look prettier and more stunning, as they say. But we know this is not always the case; it is too often the other way. I am now thinking of those days of ratan in skirts which caused our sisters to occupy much territory, to the discomfort of young gentlemen gallants. I will not speak of the illness and disease that are brought on following fashions. We all know about our terrible suffering experiences along this line and still we seem to learn nothing by them. We follow fashions as though it were the most proper thing to do; as though it were for our health and soul's good.

Well done, Susan! You have had the courage to introduce the subject of fashion.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

A kneeling cushion for use while washing a floor may be made as follows: Take an old piece of carpet, 18x12 inches, round off two corners lengthwise, stuff with excelsior, stitch all around with a machine, then take a piece 14 inches deep, 42 inches long, stuff with excelsior, fold over lengthwise and sew with a string to the cushion, starting from one point around the round corners, to the other point, leaving one side free. This forms a guard to protect the apron or dress from getting soiled.

The small callous spots on the soles of the feet, from which so many housewives complain, may be cured by placing a bit of absorbent cotton saturated with olive oil on the spot each morning before putting on the stockings or shoe.

To shine boots quickly do not blacken but rub with a piece of an orange. Let the juice dry, then polish with a soft brush, and they will shine like a mirror.

A good method of washing windows is to take two or three pieces of lump starch, dissolve in water and wash windows with the same. Let it dry and polish with a dry cloth.

Common dry clothes may be made from worn-out tablecloths by cutting the desired size from the strongest parts and folding a hem 1½ inches wide with miter corners.

One of the best remedies for removing corns is turpentine. Touch the corn every night before retiring with a little turpentine. It will come out in a very short time. Apply the turpentine with a tooth pick.

Interesting County Convention Held at Bar Harbor.

SOUTHWEST HARBOR, June 1 (special).—The twenty-first annual convention of Hancock county W. C. T. U. was held in the Methodist church at Bar Harbor, May 25-26, with Bar Harbor union as entertaining hostess. The greeting rally Monday evening was opened by the presiding officer, Mrs. Olive M. Alexander. The welcome to the church and town by the pastor, Rev. C. Garland, was hearty and cordial. The welcome on behalf of the union by the local president, Mrs. Hannah Jordan, was overflowing with love for the work. The response by Miss M. A. Carroll was deeply appreciative of the welcome given. Congregational singing, quotations, and brief speeches added interest to the session. Remarks by Deacon Clark, Deputy Sheriff Higgins, Miss Nickerson, Mrs. A. W. Clark, Miss Carroll, and others were of much interest.

Tuesday brought a good number of delegates from Southwest, Northeast and Winter Harbor. The praise service proved a fitting prelude to the day's work. At 10 a. m. the county president took up the convention work, appointing committees and solicitors for the official papers. The national organizer, Miss Elizabeth Gordon, of Auburn, Mass., and Miss L. H. Wight, of Parkman, state superintendent of franchise, were made members of the convention.

Reports from unions were encouraging, though some once considered the most active of the county unions failed to make a report or send delegates. Miss Gordon urged membership contests, and it was voted that the method should be given a trial. Miss Gordon gave an interesting description of headquarters at Evanston.

An impressive memorial service was led by Miss Carroll. A tribute of love was given by Mrs. Jordan to the life and character of Mrs. Endora Salisbury, of Bar Harbor, and Miss Carroll spoke in eulogy of Mrs. Cordelia Gilley, of the Willard union. Beautiful memorial thoughts were given by Miss Gordon.

A bountiful dinner and supper were served by the union. Many notable features made up the afternoon session. Letters were read from the State and national president and from a former county president, Mrs. L. M. Robbins. Department reports were given and visitors were introduced. By invitation of Miss Gordon, about 200 pupils from the intermediate school came marching in singing America, and completely filled the main seats. The bright, eager faces were alight with interest as Miss Gordon talked. The pledge against strong drink and cigarette smoking was readily taken by the entire school, also a unanimous vote for the organization of a local temperance legion. Miss Thompson was elected superintendent of the legion.

Miss Gordon has the same winning power to charm and enthrall children that has given her sister, Anna A. Gordon, such a strong hold over the hearts of the youth all over the world. Mr. Haynes gave a brief talk to the little folks. The president's address, an excellent paper, was listened to with interest. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Caroline Guptill, Winter Harbor; corresponding secretary, Miss Juliette Nickerson, Bar Harbor; recording secretary, Mrs. J. M. Mason, Southwest Harbor; treasurer, Mrs. A. W. Clark, Southwest Harbor.

A vote of thanks was passed in favor of the retiring president. The convention was characterized throughout with harmony and good will. The evening session held many good things. A fine solo by Mrs. Haynes was fully appreciated. The resolution of thanks given by the chairman of the committee, Miss Carroll, expressed the gratitude of the convention for the many favors received.

The address by Miss Gordon was a clear and forcible statement of facts, given with a magnetic and convincing power. Excellent remarks were made by Rev. Messrs. Haynes and McKoy. Before the close of the convention the new president extended a cordial invitation from Winter Harbor union for the 1909 council which was accepted.

The owner of a dry good store one day, to his great disgust, heard a new clerk say to a lady: "No, madam, we have not had any for a long time." "With a fierce glance at the clerk the smart employer rushed up to the lady and said: "We have plenty in reserve, madam, plenty upstairs." Lady and clerk looked dazed, and afterward the smart proprietor learned that the clerk's remark had been made in answer to the lady's "we haven't had any rain lately."

WELL RECOMMENDED

From his Bangor Home—History that will Live for Ages to Come.

During the past year it is an absolute fact that J. W. Merrow, M. D., has made some of the most astounding and wonderful cures ever recorded to any one man in the practice of medicine, and it should be further remembered that every one of the following cases, where the writer has carefully investigated, has been doctored by our leading physicians and many of them in the leading hospitals of Maine, Boston and elsewhere, and had been given up as incurable, to-day are living, walking testimonials of Dr. Merrow's skill. Below we mention a few of the many severe cases that he has successfully treated or cured during the past year, since he located in Bangor, and would space permit, every page of this paper might be covered with equally astounding cures as the following:

Mrs. C. H. Crocker, of Brewer, cured of fibroid tumor, without the use of the knife, the loss of a drop of blood and no pain, after being given up in four hospitals and by over a score of physicians to die.

Mrs. Wm. McNeil, cured of rose cancer. Alvin Mann, Orono, cured of diabetes in its worst form, after suffering for eight years.

Mrs. Adelia Albisetti, 20 Foster street, Bangor, cured after being given up to die at the Mass. General Hospital with kidney disease and stomach trouble.

D. W. Robinson, So. Brewer, after suffering twenty years with kidney, liver and rheumatic trouble, cured by Dr. Merrow.

Mrs. Elie Leclair, of Orono, cured of dyspepsia and female trouble.

Mrs. E. W. Luce, Hermon Ctr., confined to her bed for nearly a year with rheumatism and paralysis, to-day is able to be about the house and run a sewing machine.

Mrs. C. E. DeWitt, Lincoln Ctr., Me., has been suffering for years with gall stones, says that one treatment of Dr. Merrow's medicine did her more good than all the medicine she had ever tried. John W. Blanchard, Berlin Corner, given up to die by eight physicians with consumption. Dr. Merrow removed from him a large parasite; now he is well.

Ira L. Cook, East Machias, says: "My wife and I are receiving great benefit from your treatment."

Mrs. S. H. Dowling, Jacksonville, Me., says: "I do not want any better treatment than Dr. Merrow's medicine; it is helping me wonderfully."

Mrs. T. M. Nelson, of Orange, cured of sick headaches in their most severe form. Annie G. Reynolds cured of epileptic fits, taken when she was two years of age, cured when twenty-six.

Mrs. Joseph Riley, 66 Lafountain street, Burlington, cured of cancer of the uterus. If space would permit, we could give thousands of cases fully as strong. The above patients informed the writer that they had doctored for months and many of them for years and considered their cases incurable until they consulted Dr. Merrow. Testimonials of the above cases, many of them taking up a whole column, can be seen at Dr. Merrow's office, or will be sent to any address upon request.

It should be remembered that Dr. Merrow is permanently located at 82 Central Street, Bangor, Maine, where his office days for out-of-town patients are Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays with consultation free on these days. Others days, he is busy attending those who are unable to come to his office. Those who are unable to visit the doctor in person should send for his self-examining outfit and learn just what their diseases are, and what to do to be cured, if curable, free, by addressing, with stamp, J. W. Merrow, M. D., 82 Central Street, Bangor, Maine.

RETIRED BUSINESS MAN IS IN FAVOR OF NEW THEORY

One of the most interesting statements made recently concerning the much discussed Cooper theory, that has spread over the country during the past year, is made by E. H. Lambert, a retired business man, whose home is at 115 Francis Street, Everett, Mass.

Mr. Lambert has this to say in connection with Cooper and his medicines: "Some time ago I read an article about this man Cooper, in which he claimed that stomach trouble was directly responsible for most ill health. He went on to say that, although his medicine did nothing but get the stomach in sound condition, it would, in many cases, remove kidney and liver trouble and various other ailments. He argued from this that the stomach was the main cause of sickness, and stated that the success he has had with his medicines was due entirely to this fact.

"I am now fully convinced that this theory is correct, and believe Cooper has a really remarkable medicine, judging from my own experience.

"I have been a sick man for five years. Three years ago I was told by a physician that I had Bright's disease of the kidneys. I have treated constantly for this trouble since, without results. After reading the article I have mentioned, I purchased some of this man Cooper's medicine. I have been astounded by what it has done for me. I was relieved to some extent within 24 hours. To-day my health is better than for five years, and so far as I can tell, my kidney trouble has disappeared.

"My wife, who had stomach trouble for some time, tried the preparation after noting its action in my case, and her improvement is fully as marked as mine. She now eats heartily three times a day without any distress whatsoever. Her nervousness has also left her. I certainly believe this man's success is fully justified, as he undoubtedly has a wonderful medicine."

We will gladly describe the remarkable record made by the Cooper medicines to all who wish to know of them. — G. A. Parcher.

KITTERY TO CARIBOU.

Marshall N. McKusick, five times mayor of Calais, died Thursday, aged sixty-eight years. He had represented Calais in the State legislature, and had held the office of county attorney.

The year from April 1, 1907, to April 1, 1908, is by far the most prosperous of the one hundred and fourteen years of Bowdoin college history. The college has added to her income-bearing funds in payments and pledges, within this single year, $343,000.

The largest number of convicts that the state prison has ever had at one time is now registered there, 242. Every available cell in the prison, with the exception of a few in the west wing, is now occupied. The previous high mark was 239 prisoners; the average is only 190.

A fine of $10,000, the maximum amount, will be imposed upon George Fred Terry, proprietor of the Waterville Mail Order Publishing House, who was convicted in March on two counts for conspiracy to defraud the government of postage. The announcement was made at the conclusion of evidence and arguments for mercy, on the ground that if Terry should be sent to jail it would result in total blindness and possibly cost him his life.

The bodies of Gideon Keith and Mrs. Elizabeth Ready were found Thursday morning in the kitchen of Mrs. Ready's home in Bangor. According to the police it was a case of murder and suicide. Keith having killed the woman and then himself. The man and woman were about forty-five years of age and each leaves several children. Keith wanted Mrs. Ready to marry him, but she refused because she was a Catholic and he a Protestant.

News of the supposed plight of the thirty-five members of the crew of the Seawall, which has been posted as missing at Lloyds and by the insurance companies in New York, has reached the New York maritime exchange in a report from Capt. Hill, master of the British steamship Hampshire, which recently arrived at Sydney, New South Wales, from the Hawaiian Islands. Capt. Hill states that upon passing Middleton reef the latter part of April he saw a lead painted ship of about 3,500 tons high and dry on the north side of the reef, with sails carefully stowed along the yards. The vessel was undoubtedly American, according to the master of the Hampshire, who, however, was not aware at that time that the Arthur Seawall was overdue. Hence his failure to stop and learn details of the fate of the crew. The news brought by the Hampshire is so convincing that Arthur Seawall & Co., of Bath, the owners of the ship, have taken steps to learn whether the stranded ship is the Seawall, and how many of her crew are marooned on the little Pacific reef.

I was in this condition when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. The first few doses helped me and when I had used a couple of boxes I was entirely cured. This last fall I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys and caused another attack. I remembered how Doan's Kidney Pills had cured me two years ago, so I went to E. G. "I've just been thinking," said Willieboy. "Thinking what?" demanded Silliman, to whom the idea of Willieboy's thinking was somewhat disconcerting. "That in Adam's case it must have been a real re-leaf to change his clothes," said Willieboy.

They were insurance agents, and they were boasting of the promptness with which their respective companies paid claims. "You may all be sick," said one who had been listening, "but you can't equal what we do out in the States. I know an office on the second floor of a sixteen-story sky-scraper. One day a workman fell from the roof to the pavement. Well, as he came past the window of the insurance office on the second floor a clerk handed him his check."

Col. Nathaniel S. Purinton, of West

Bowdoin, private secretary to Governor Cobb, died Monday after a long illness. Col. Purinton was born in Bowdoin, Feb. 23, 1844.

Former United States Senator James

K. Jones, of Arkansas, died at Washington Monday, after an illness of a few hours, aged sixty-nine. He was one of the leading democrats of the Senate from 1885 to 1903, and was one of the strongest supporters of William Jennings Bryan, having as chairman of the democratic national committee, conducted the campaigns of 1896 and 1900.

The appointment of Gen. Luke E.

Wright, of Tennessee, a gold democrat, to be the successor of Secretary Taft on July 1, is considered assured. While the announcement has not been made officially from the White House, nor will be, of course, until after the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency, it is admitted that General Wright will succeed to the portfolio of war. This selection is considered an ideal one in every way. It was recommended by both Secretary Root and Secretary Taft, and has a political significance of no mean importance. General Wright is peculiarly fitted to take up the work of the war department where Secretary Taft leaves off. He was with the secretary in the Philippines at the time Judge Taft was at the head of the Philippine commission, and served with him during the period of reconstruction of the government of the islands. The recognition of the South by a republican President in appointing to his cabinet a southern democrat is an event of far-reaching significance.

WEDDING BELLS.

TRUNDY-QUINN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Fuller on Central street, was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday morning, when Miss Lucy Maude Trundy, Mrs. Fuller's sister, became the bride of John Everett Quinn. The parlor was tastefully decorated with apple blossoms in honor of the event.

The bride looked her best in a dress of white Paris muslin over white silk trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the family and near friends, by Rev. P. A. A. Killam, the ring service being used. The couple was unattended. The wedding march by Mendelssohn was finely rendered by Miss M. A. Hodgkins.

After the ceremony refreshments were daintily served by Helen, Ruth and Hester Fuller, little nieces of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn received many useful presents, among them being a fine salad set presented by the Helpmehow society of the Baptist church, of which both are members. They will make their home in this city.

Village Improvement.

This column is devoted to the purpose implied in the heading. The matter is contributed by members of the Public Improvement Association of Ellsworth. Communications intended for this column must be signed, but names will not be printed without the assent of the writer. All matter is subject to the approval of editor, but none will be rejected without good reason.

PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

A stroll about town this week would convince anyone with eyes to see that the work undertaken by the Village improvement society was progressing finely.

There have necessarily been many delays, as the work of this society is supplementary to the usual work done by the city upon the public streets. The society endeavors to consult and work with the street commissioner, and often must wait until the more important drain or culvert has been properly repaired, as it hopes to do permanent work.

On account of the magnificent dam, beautiful waterfall and new lake, all felt that the walk and drive by our river side would be most favored by visitors, whether of commercial or pleasure-seeking mind.

By common consent Grant street was deemed a most important and conspicuous point for improvement. Here the work began. While naturally a beautiful part of the city, truly it has been neglected, for in the days gone by our city fathers have never been lavish in their expenditures in this vicinity.

From the corner at the Hancock house, continuing up the street, a systematic cleaning has been going on, and we are assured the power company will put in good order all land owned by it. The society gratefully acknowledges generous contributions of money from owners of land to further the work. The people occupying the houses up the street responded with enthusiasm, eagerly clearing their own grounds, sowing grass seed, planting trees and vines to cover out-buildings, and giving labor to help the general cause.

An old cellar has been filled with the collected refuse, covered with soil, and grass seed sown, and this summer, in place of a neglected, desolate place, will be a spot of beauty. Trees have been set out along the street, the line of which has been straightened. Evergreen trees have been placed near the river bank. The old logs and refuse wood that have littered that shore since the memory of man are rapidly being cared for.

Another point of general interest is the old cemetery on State street. The society made an appropriation that the Rev. Mr. Mathews might be able to carry a little further the work already begun. An evergreen hedge has been set along the street line. Soon the granite gateway will be in position and with the crushed rock road through the centre will greatly improve the appearance of this spot.

On this street is the beautiful public library. The society has done some much-needed work there.

On Franklin street [an] appropriation was made to assist in repairing a banking formerly in perfect order, but made ugly by work a few years ago upon the sidewalk. Old, abandoned buildings, condemned as a menace, will be torn down, and the lot cared for.

An appropriation was made to assist the Methodist society in completing the work of grading its lot on Hancock street. This work will be on the street line.

An effort will be made to straighten the line of every street.

Refuse barrels have been placed in many conspicuous places, and a garbage wagon will collect once a week.

The sanitary committee has made strenuous efforts to clear and cover many old dumping grounds, and posted notices forbidding further dumping of refuse.

There are several sub-divisions that have definite plans for improving their own locality and are raising their own funds.

Perhaps the most important work of this society is that of stimulating the individual to greater effort, and awakening a public sentiment for more orderly and more sanitary conditions. The resources of this society are so limited, no great change can be wrought except through the quickened interest and pride of all for a more beautiful Ellsworth.

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

Turns of a comedy nature will predominate in the programme to be presented at Keith's next week. Digby Ball, the versatile star, is to present his newest gathering of stories and jests.

"The King of Slang," Bert Leslie, is to play his last vaudeville engagement in Boston prior to joining the Frohman forces. Assisted by Maude Emery, George Ryan and Dick Flower, he will play his latest skit, "Hogan in Society," for the first time in Boston.

The Belclair brothers, America's greatest acrobats, will head the list of "sight" acts. They are shortly to leave for Europe.

The Williams and Walker glee club, whose singing is making a hit this week, will remain for another week.

Snyder and Buckley, musical comedians, in the "Street Musician"; Byers and Hornmann, pantomimic noveltyists; Brown, Harris and Brown, in a bunch of nonsense; Leona Thurber and her pickaninnies; Frank Whitman, dancing violinist; Zara and Stetson, baton manipulators; the Zarnes, serialists, and new kinetograph pictures will all be among the numbers on the programme.

$1000 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Sleepwalking.

Women and children are more apt to suffer from somnambulism than men, possibly because their brain is more delicately poised and therefore more easily influenced by dreams. A somnambulist nearly always walks with his eyes wide open, the pupils being much dilated. He is a dreamer able to act his dreams, and in this state the mind becomes fearless, the weak strong and the stupid brilliant. Their somnambulist condition presents many curious anomalies. The somnambulist's sense of hearing is not often suspended, for, generally speaking, he will answer questions even if whispered, but often the same ear is deaf to loud noises. The sense of smell is frequently altered. Brimstone and phosphorus are said to be pleasant scents to the somnambulist, and many cannot tell wine from water, as the sense of taste becomes perverted or entirely suspended. Some people walk periodically in their sleep, while others do so spasmodically. One German doctor goes to the extreme of asserting that somnambulists are attracted by the moon, and thus they walk on roofs of houses and at great heights because they derive a peculiar pleasure from contemplating the moon.

A Tiny Death Dealer.

A most agonizing death is caused by an insect half the size of a pea—a small black spider. It lives in Peru, in South America, but a few specimens have reached Europe in ship-laborers was unlucky enough to come upon one in the Victoria docks while unloading a bark. The tiny death dealer dropped upon the back of his hand and dug its fangs into his flesh. The bite itself was nothing, but as soon as the poison began to work the man fainted with pain. Soon afterward he came to and lived three days before the end came. This spider's venom scorches up the blood vessels and spreads through all the tissues, causing the most fearful agony a human being can have to bear. The worst of it is that the victim lives at least two days, enduring unthinkable anguish the whole time. This spider is luckily not common. It is known as the "specky," and when a man who knows what the bite means is bitten he generally blows out his brains.—London Chronicle.

Extreme Obedience.

The Youngs had unexpectedly dropped in on the Baileys just as dinner was about to be served. The hostess, considerably disturbed, called her little daughter Helen aside and explained that there would not be enough oysters to go around and added, "Now, you and I will just have some of the broth, and please do not make any fuss about it at the table."

Little Helen promised to remember and say nothing. But when the oysters were served Helen discovered a small oyster in her plate which had accidentally been ladled up with the broth. This puzzled the little girl, as she could not recall any instructions covering this contingency. After studying a few moments she dipped the oyster up with her spoon and, holding it up as high as she could, piped out, "Mamma, mamma, shouldn't Mrs. Young have this oyster too?"—Christian Register.

Countess Hertford's Bell.

Edward Seymour, earl of Hertford, in the days of Queen Elizabeth married as his third wife a beautiful young widow who had been engaged to Sir George Rodney, but whom she flitted for Lord Hertford. Sir George Rodney traveled to Amesbury and, putting up at the Inn, awaited the homecoming of the earl and countess, who were expected to arrive the next day. The infatuated man wrote a dying ode to his fickle love, using his blood as ink, and upon the arrival of the bridal party he went out to meet them. Lady Hertford was agitated and terrified at the appearance of her old lover, and before Sir George could be prevented he drew his sword and, falling on it, expired at Lady Hertford's feet. The countess presented a bell to Amesbury church perhaps as a slight penance for her fickleness. The inscription runs: Be strong in faith, pray for God well. Frances, Countess Hertford a bell.

Stars That Outshine the Sun.

One of the government astronomers, referring to stars that are so distant that they have no measurable parallax, asserts that one of these, the brilliant Canopus, can be said with confidence to be thousands of times brighter than our sun. Whether we should say 20,000, 10,000 or 5,000 no one can decide. The first magnitude stars, Rigel and Spec, also are at an immeasurable distance and must, in view of their actual brightness, enormously outshine the sun.

The 'Anged and Un'anged.

An American actor was once seeing London from the top of a bus. As they swung down the Strand he asked the driver to point out the places of interest. "Right you are, sir," agreed the driver, touching his hat. "There's Lugli'll, where they 'ang 'em." A little later, "There's parliament 'ouses, where they make the laws wot does it, across the way. An' there's Westminster habby, where they buried the good 'uns wot didn't get 'anged!"

His Only Chance.

"Why did you shake your fist at the speaker?" "Well," replied the congressman, "I didn't want the whole session to slip by without my having made a motion of some kind."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Calmness under contradiction is demonstrative of great stupidity or strong intellect.—Zimmerman.

CITY MEETING.

OTHER VETO MESSAGE BY MAYOR SIMONTON.

COMPENSATION OF TAX COLLECTOR

At a meeting of the city council held Monday evening, the mayor and aldermen had many matters of business before them at their regular meeting Monday evening. The session was a long one, and wound up with a lengthy discussion of drains and sewers which sounded like ancient history to those familiar with city meetings for a dozen years past.

The same old drains and sewers bob up each year, and will continue to bob up unless some systematic work is inaugurated by the city to properly cover them or to have them either at its own expense, if the city is liable, or by compelling private owners to do so.

Mayor Simonton, Ald. Stockbridge, Hagan, Estey and Jordan were present at the meeting.

MAYOR'S VETO.

Message of the mayor was presented, vetoing the vote passed at the last meeting, not to expend State road money on High street this year. The reason given for the veto was the same as that given in the previous veto of vote to change location of State road work to Ellsworth, i. e., that the change of location of State road is not necessary.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

A communication was received from the Park street improvement society. Two or three years ago this society agreed to pay $150 toward the expense of laying crushed rock on Park street from Oak to School streets. This promise was made on an estimate that the work would cost $300, the city meeting the society half way. As a matter of fact, the work cost only about $30. The society has already paid in $114, or more than half the total cost, and now asks to be released from the payment of the $36 still due, on the agreement to expend that amount for the further improvement of the street. The matter was referred to the committee on streets, with full power to act.

TAX COLLECTOR'S CONTRACT.

The matter of compensation of tax collector was then taken up. J. H. Bresnahan, who has been elected tax collector, agreed to collect the taxes on a contract identical with that he made with the city in 1905 and 1906, with the exception that compensation shall be $1,600 in-

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

steed of $2,000, and amount required to be paid in the first year shall be 80 instead of 85 per cent. of the total commitment. The board voted to make such a contract with Mr. Bresnahan.

NEW HIGHWAY.

The committee on streets reported in favor of accepting the private way leading from Oak street, across the railroad to the east line of the Isaac Davis property as a public way. The report was accepted, and the city clerk instructed to post the necessary notices for a hearing.

WATER FOR FALLS ENGINE HOUSE.

The committee on fire department reported in favor of granting petition for installation of water in Ellsworth Falls engine house, together with necessary facilities for clearing hose. The matter was referred to the chief engineer with power to go ahead with the work.

MINOR MATTERS.

Report of the committee on petition for sidewalk on Shore road was called for. Committee reported that sidewalk was undoubtedly needed, but no action was advisable until the new road was completed.

Chief Engineer Goodwin had recommended the establishment of two or three more standpipes for filling the sprinkling cart, which would save many trips with empty cart and improve facilities for sprinkling. Referred to committee on streets.

Mayor Simonton suggested the installation of an electric light on Main street bridge. No action was taken.

Bill of W. J. Connick for $35.62 for work on drain across his property on Hancock street was laid on the table.

Petition of Elbridge Milliken for protection of shade trees in front of his property on upper Main street from damage by telephone wires, was referred to the street commissioner to report at the next meeting.

Rev. R. B. Mathews called attention to the liability of the city for the care of the small cemetery back of the Congregational church, and asked for an appropriation of $50 and sufficient crushed rock for a driveway through centre of cemetery. The request was granted, and Mr. Mathews and Ald. Estey were appointed a committee to look after the expenditure of the money.

Rev. R. B. Mathews called attention to need of a street light on School street between Church and State streets, and suggested that a series lamp be placed at the corner of School and Park streets. Referred to committee on electric lights.

Street Commissioner Woodward reported that he had been questioned in relation to the building of driveways across the gutters to give access to houses on Pine and High streets. He had been asked by the Village improvement society if the city would furnish crushed rock for driveways. The board voted that the street commissioner be authorized to furnish crushed rock for driveways, to the Village improvement society, at cost.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

Charles H. Leland, representing the confectioners of Ellsworth, addressed the board in relation to Sunday closing of stores. He thought same suitable arrangement could be made by which stores could be allowed to be open for certain hours Sunday—one or two hours in the morning and one or two in the afternoon. He suggested that the matter be left in the hands of the city marshal.

City Marshal Brann said he did not wish to assume so much responsibility. He thought the proper steps would be for the confectioners to meet those who petitioned for the closing of the stores Sunday, and see if some compromise arrangement could be made.

The matter was laid on the table until next Monday evening.

DRAINS AND SEWERS.

F. C. Burrill called attention to the condition of the drain or sewer under the Gaynor and Burrill buildings on Water street, and asked the city to take some steps to abate the nuisance which existed there. Referred to street commissioner, to report at Monday evening's meeting.

A general discussion of drains and sewers followed, during which M. S. Smith, of the board of health, spoke of nuisances existing in many places, and Street Commissioner Woodward called attention to several instances where sink and closet drains emptied directly into the street or under sidewalks. The city will take steps to compel property owners whose sewage is not properly disposed of to enter sewers.

Mr. Smith was requested to draw up specifications for a properly constructed cesspool to govern the construction of all cesspools in the city in the future, and which may be adopted as a city ordinance.

A recess was then taken to next Monday evening at 7.30.

OBITUARY.

Herman Smith, son of Reuben and Mary Ashley Smith, was born May 8, 1841, died May 27, 1908. Reuben Smith settled here for the manufacture of woolen goods in company with Mr. Ford. Mr. Smith afterward carrying on the business alone. Herman, when a young man, spent several years in California. The memory of these stirring years has ever been with him in the quiet New England village where he spent the remainder of his days.

He married Miss Lydia Clark, of Prospect Harbor. A son, Edward H., a graduate of the University of Maine, now teaching in the high school in Attleboro, Mass., and a daughter, Miss Bernice, a stenographer recently employed in Bangor, have seemed to realize the unfulfilled ambitions of the father.

Mr. Smith was never aggressive in his views. He loved the birds and flowers, and called them by name.

"A primrose by the river's brim
A yellow primrose was to him,
And it was something more. He loved his home and his village, and in his quiet way furthered all its interests for good. He was a regular attendant at church, where he always rejoiced over unity of spirit and grieved over any discord in spiritual things.

During the last few years the water power has been utilized for threshing and grinding grain, which is now done by a gasoline engine. Mr. Smith was a Mason, and a member of John Dory's grange.

His final illness was without severe suffering, a gentle falling asleep. A quiet, upright, kindly man walked in and out among us, whose place will be hard to fill.

Services were held at the church Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Mr. Purdy. Interment in the family lot.

TO RHEUMATISM SUFFERERS.

Scientific Treatment That Costs Nothing Unless It Cures.

Neuralgia, Anodyne's remarkable cures of rheumatism has probably caused more favorable talk and comment than any other rheumatism cure ever put on the market, as it seems unerring in curing this dread disease.

It is much more successful than ordinary rheumatism remedies, due to its action being entirely different. It is taken in small doses internally, reaching the nerve centers and driving the Uric Acid from the blood. At the same time, it is rubbed on the affected parts, and thus its curative power goes through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues and throbbing nerve giving quick relief and cure.

So reliable is the Anodyne in curing rheumatism, neuralgia and all aches and pains that it is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if not satisfactory.

A large-sized bottle costs 25c; nothing else if it does not cure. It is made by Twichell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

Mi-o-na Means Stomach Comfort.

It's of Special Value to Many Here in Ellsworth.

A notable discovery, and one that appeals especially to many people in Ellsworth, is the combination of stomach help in the Mi-o-na treatment. This preparation works wonders in cases of indigestion or weak stomach. It acts directly upon the walls of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten without distress or suffering.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Mi-o-na that the remedy is sold by G. A. Parcher under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails to cure. A 50-cent box of Mi-o-na will do the good the stomach needs, which is simply to make it do its own work.
